Whilst Foresters' AFSL allows for the provision of broader financial services, it is important to note that in practice Foresters only provides factual information or general (not personal) advice which you would receive from Foresters' staff, via our website or from our marketing materials.

2. What other documentation you will receive

All our financial products and services are issued under our Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). The PDS is provided to assist you in making an informed decision about whether to invest Foresters' financial products and contains information about the product's features, benefits, costs and risks. We will provide you with the relevant PDS so that you can invest in any of our financial products or you can obtain the relevant PDS from our website.

3. How we are remunerated

Foresters' receives remuneration through the fees that it charges relevant to the financial product, which may include contribution fees and management fees; in some situations, account fees and transaction fees may also apply. A detailed description of our fees for each financial product offered by Foresters can be found in the relevant PDS.

We reserve the right to charge for certain administrative services which may arise through the course of your dealings with us. The charges for certain administrative services are outlined in the relevant PDS.

4. Who provides the financial service and how they are remunerated

Foresters provides financial services through a variety of channels including direct or through advisory distribution platforms.

Foresters' distribution model for funeral bonds involves acquisitions by members through funeral directors who, by law, are not required to hold or be authorised under an AFSL in order to refer customer to Foresters' funeral bonds. Funeral directors may be provided marketing assistance from Foresters' management fees.

Foresters' employees are remunerated by way of a salary and other employee benefits. They may also be eligible for performance bonuses related to their overall performance which may include quality of service provided to clients and other performance criteria. Any performance bonus our employees receive will not affect the level of fees charged on your investments or your investment account. Foresters' employees do not receive commissions.

Foresters' has relationships with a number of third parties (such as industry bodies or membership associations, for example) and advisors who may be provided a fixed fee for the distribution of Foresters financial products. Foresters does not pay commissions to financial advisers or other intermediaries for any products issued.
